2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

The college has maintained an active, cautious, and current website. On the college website, every department has a separate page. For every program it provides, the college's website tracks and displays the course, program, and program-specific results. The department page provides a summary of the department's activities, resources, faculty, and student achievements. A thorough list of the faculty members and their biographies are also available on this page. It also includes a comprehensive overview of the relative number of courses offered by the department, as well as information on course outcomes, overall program objectives, and program-specific goals. A list of courses and programs, together with program codes, can be found in the college prospectus. The program's results are included.
